

Panel Speakers

Kathleen Bramwell is Senior Vice Chancellor of Finance and Administration, serving as the chief financial and administrative officer of Rutgers Biomedical and Health Sciences. With over 25 years of experience in an academic medical center, Ms. Bramwell provides advice regarding the strategic positioning of RBHS to optimize business development and entrepreneurial opportunities. She is responsible for recommending strategies to assure fiscal solvency, economic well-being, and administrative and operational efficiencies across the tripartite mission. She provides financial direction and administrative oversight for eight schools, a behavioral health network and five centers and institutes, and works in partnership with hospital affiliates to assure strong alignment and close collaboration.

Barbara Gladson is the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs and the interim Chair of the Department of Health Informatics in the School of Health Professions (SHP). She has been at the university for over 26 years in various positions including professor in the Rehabilitation and Movement Sciences Department in SHP, Adjunct Associate Professor in the Department of Pharmacology & Physiology in the Graduate School of Biomedical Sciences, and Director of the Biopharma Educational Initiative, also in SHP. In 2015 she was selected to attend the prestigious HERS Leadership Conference designed for women in higher education.

Terri Goss Kinzy was elected to the University Master Educator Guild, Selected Compact for Faculty Diversity Bridges to the Professoriate Faculty Mentor of the Year, was named a Woman of the Year in Medicine for Somerset County, New Jersey and is an AAAS Fellow. Her mentoring of others has been recognized by New Jersey Association for Biomedical Research Outstanding Mentor Award and the R. Walter Schlesinger Basic Science Mentoring Award. She has served as director of the RWJMS/Rutgers University/Princeton University MD/Ph.D. Program, Executive Director of the RWJMS DNA Core Facility and Senior Associate Dean of the Graduate School of Biomedical Sciences and Research at RWJMS.

Sangeeta Lamba is Professor of Emergency Medicine and the Associate Dean of Education at Rutgers New Jersey Medical School (NJMS). She serves in multiple leadership roles for national professional organizations related to emergency and palliative medicine. She is a current ELAM fellow (Executive Leadership in Academic Medicine) and member of the NJMS mentoring committee. She leads faculty development sessions for the National Research Mentoring Network (NRMN) and mentoring workshops for the American Association of Medical Colleges (AAMC) initiative, Building the Next Generation of Academic Physicians (BNGAP).

Anne C. Mosenthal is the Benjamin F. Rush, Jr. Professor and Chair of the Department of Surgery at the Rutgers New Jersey Medical School. Dr. Mosenthal in an accomplished trauma surgeon, educator, and researcher; she has had a long career in academic surgery, specializing in trauma and critical care. Her innovative work in integrating palliative care into the care of critically ill surgical patients has led to the development of the new interdisciplinary field of surgical palliative care. Since becoming a fellow of the ELAM Executive Leadership in Academic Medicine program in 2012, she has worked to advance the leadership of women in academic medicine. She is Co-Chair of the RBHS Mentoring Committee and the founding chair of the Society of Surgical Chairs Women's Committee.

Nanci Tofsky has a Bachelor of Arts degree, a Master of Science degree and a Doctor of Dentistry degree. She did her residency in Pediatric Dentistry at Tufts New England Medical Center in Boston. She began her dental career at Englewood Hospital in NJ where she served as the dental residency director. She then became director of the residency program at Robert Wood Johnson University Hospital before joining the faculty of New Jersey Dental School, now known as Rutgers School of Dental Medicine. She has been a member of the faculty of the department of pediatric dentistry for 31 years. In addition, she is a member of the medical staff at University Hospital where she is an attending in Dental Medicine.

RUTGERS

BIOMEDICAL AND HEALTH SCIENCES

*Thursday, June 1, 2017
8:30am - 4:30pm*

Rutgers Business School Piscataway, NJ

Sponsored by the Chancellor and the Office of Provosts

Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey

Keynote/Speakers

Dr. Dorothy Cantor served as the 105th President of the American Psychological Association (APA) in 1996-97 and for 15 years was President of the American Psychological Foundation. She also served for 10 years as the Chair of the APA Insurance Trust. In 2009, she was inducted in the Rutgers University Hall of Distinguished Alumni. She has been a member of the Board of Trustees of Rutgers and served as its Chair. Currently, she is a member of the Rutgers Board of Governors. Dr. Cantor has a private practice in Westfield, N.J. She has written or edited 6 books and numerous articles, focusing on women's issues and advocacy. Her most recent books are Finding Your Voice and What Do You Want to Do When You Grow Up?. She has also appeared as an expert on television shows, including Good Morning America, Prime Time Live, and the Today show, and on CNBC and the Fox News Channel. She is long married, and has two children and seven grandchildren.

Dr. Sandra (Sandy) Shullman is Managing Partner of the Columbus Office of the Executive Development Group, LLC, internationally known in leadership and executive assessment and development. She teaches leadership at the HEC School of Business for their EMBA and MBA programs in Paris, Doha, Beijing, and Shanghai, and also serves as faculty for the Duke University Fuqua School of Business Global Learning Network. Her distinguished record of organizational work experience has focused on leadership and executive development, executive coaching, strategic planning and multicultural and diversity initiatives, working with major global organizations and leaders. She is co-author of Performance Appraisal on the Line, a groundbreaking book on performance evaluation. Sandy is the current Chair of the APA Leadership Institute for Women in Psychology and also serves as a faculty member for a number of leadership development academies, preparing technical and scientific professionals for broader leadership roles. In 2016, Sandy received the Gold Medal for Lifetime Achievement in the Practice of Psychology from the American Psychological Foundation, its highest honor.

Bringing together a diverse mix of successful RBHS women leaders who – by discussing their journey – will educate, inspire, and encourage attendees to reflect on their own goals as they strive to advance in their careers.

Morning Agenda

8:30 - 8:45am Registration, Breakfast, Networking

8:45 - 9:00am Welcome: Provosts

9:00 - 10:00am Harvey L. Ozer Memorial Keynote
Address: Dr. Dorothy Cantor

10:00 - 11:00am RBHS Women Leader Panel
Anne Mosenthal, MD (NJMS)
Kathy Bramwell, MBA (RBHS)
Barbara Gladson, PhD (SHP)
Nanci Tofsky, DMD (SDM)
Terri Kinzy, PhD (RWJMS)

Workshops by Invitation Only

11:15 - 12:15pm Develop your Individualized Plan
(Workshop #1) Sangeeta Lamba, MD
and Steering Committee Members

12:15 - 1:15pm Networking and LUNCH

1:15 - 4:00pm Build Leadership Skills
(Workshop #2) Sandy Shullman, PhD

4:00 - 4:30pm Next Steps and Conclusion
